

ALI HAIDER

TERI JALION KE NEECHE

Indeed Allah, You have called me
Since the first whispering of adhaan in my ear
Questing through the tempestuous thoughts that
Surge and flood my mind, and i
Seeing the life path that would draw me to You
Believing in the unseen dream
That comes knock knocking
On the doorway of my consciousness
Demanding submissive acknowledgment

Accepting the Divine command
Whose power would determine
My journeys beginning in my journeys end
Knowing I will humble, submit to final call
For in it I will find the seal of my bond to You
Allah I have loved You before I consciously knew You
